

Informex USA 2008 China Buyers Delegation

Invitation

Informex USA is the world's most sophisticated meeting point for buyers and sellers of higher value chemistry. Top-level executives drawn from a broad range of manufacturing industries come together in an environment that has been developed to maximize productivity and promote serious networking, creating new ideas, new sourcing relationships and enhancing the commercialization of new products. Informex has been the leading chemical industry-sourcing destination in the United States for nearly 25 years. Our second annual Informex China show will again take the same formula and make it work for you in Asia.

Forthcoming China buyers' delegation, eChinaChem and US Commerce will co-organizer with CMP Information and State of Maryland to Informex USA 2008. Nowadays, Chinese chemical companies would like to do more business with American companies. According to many Chinese companies' suggestions, we have arranged to visit US Commercial Service, University of Maryland-China Research Park, FDA, and USP. To help Chinese companies to know detail information about American chemical companies, we also have arranged to visit Honeywell International, Grace Global Headquarters, Merck, Lonza, Chemtura, and International Specialty Products. We believe this delegation will make you a great impression on American chemical industry.
